2021-10-09 Saturday Sweet Angelique the Cat

I received a text message from Sweet Angelique the Cat today. She said to me:

"Lord Rama, the Taliban and the United States have had a face-to-face meeting in Doha, United Arab Emirates, and The Taliban has said to the U S that they won't work with the United States to contain the Islamic State in Afghanistan. This story is like herding cats! Put all of this in the Circle of Support."

Meanwhile, Sweet Angelique the Cat landed a shuttle craft near Machu Pichu, Peru. There, Sweet Angelique took a picture of 4 llamas curiously watching goings-on! She had 10 other Paschat scientists with her to study the mountain because the mountain is sending out a mysterious electro-magnetic field, and the scientists around the world are scratching their heads as this electro-magnetic field is very similar to the one resonating from Lake Vostock right at the South Pole.

The reason these events are occurring is connected with our sun Sol moving up in octave into higher light. As we tune into these energies, they will lift us up too.

Rama: I received a text message from Rana Mu today. It was 10 minutes before noon. She said: "Lord Rama: there is a galactic council happening right now somewhere near Super Galactic Center. This meeting is about the upcoming solar transfiguration.

"The solar flares presently reaching Mother Gaia are creating spectacular aurora borealis, and they are being seen as far south as Steele, North Dakota and Blanchard, Idaho in the last few days."

Rama Mu continued: "This energy is the White Fire Core of Being from our sun, Sol. No darkness can exist in this light. This light is affecting the matrix by causing short circuits in their plans of mice and men."

She continued: "All this being said, at another level of consciousness, the people of earth, with open hearts to receive, are being lifted up into the higher realms where they are experiencing - on a continuous basis - the Oneness of All That Is. We are being asked to remain in that Oneness. All we are saying is 'Give Peace a chance.'"

"Sat Nam! Namaste! Blaze the Violet Fire!"

NOTES:

- Last Saturday, early morning, Max Keiser reported that the United States is officially classified as a 3rd world country.
- Rama heard on BBC radio this morning that the IMF does not know how to fund the world's crises currently going on. These are humanitarian crises that affect all of us. The IMF doesn't know how to fund them because there is no money.

Natasha continued: "Russia has technology from Andromeda, and other galaxies are part of the Intergalactic Federation of Worlds. The Matrix continues to fall into sand. Blaze the Violet Fire! Sat Nam! Namaste!"

I don't like formality. There's no formality when we're born and none when we die. In between we should treat each other as brothers and sisters because we all want to live a happy life. This is our common purpose and our right.

Rama: I received a text message from Tom the Ring-tailed Cat today at 12:10 early this afternoon.

He said to me: "Lord Rama, there was chaos in Beirut, Lebanon today. Six were killed by sniper fire; dozens were injured. They are blaming Hezbollah. It is all our Black Ops, along with Israel's Mossad.

Israel wants to - more than the United States - Israel wants to create an incident with Iran, so they have an excuse to attack Iran. It is all about the idea that Iran is building up its nuclear enrichment program." [T: which is NOT true!]

"Place all these situations in the Circle of Support. We have won! ! Stay in the frequencies of the Violet Flame. We are coming to the end of Mercury Retrograde and the Eris-Pluto Square.

"Thank you for leaving your front seat open! We will be seeing you soon! Sat Nam! Namaste! Blaze the Violet Fire! "

2021-10-13 Mysterious radio waves coming from the heart of the Milky Way

Astronomers have detected mysterious radio waves coming from the center of the Milky Way, but so far they have no idea what's causing it, according to a new study published Tuesday in the Astrophysical Journal.

A team of scientists from across the world discovered the object using the CSIRO radio telescope in Western Australia. Ziteng Wang, the lead author of the study and a PhD student at the University of Sydney, said in a press release that they initially believed it could be a spinning dead star called a pulsar, but its signal didn't match what they expected from those types of celestial objects.

"The strangest property of this new signal is that it has a very high polarisation," Wang said. "This means its light oscillates in only one direction, but that direction rotates with time."

"The brightness of the object also varies dramatically, by a factor of 100, and the signal switches on and off apparently at random," Wang added. "We've never seen anything like it."

The radio signal — named ASKAP J173608.2-321635 after its coordinates — was "unique" because it started out invisible, then it turned bright and faded away before reappearing again, said Tara Murphy, who is Wang's PhD supervisor and professor at the Sydney Institute for Astronomy and the School of Physics.

"This behaviour was extraordinary," she said.

The scientists detected six radio signals from the source over nine months in 2020 and tried to find the object in visual light, but found nothing. They opted to use the CSIRO radio telescope and failed to recognize the source.

According to the press release, the signals don't fit any currently understood pattern of variable radio source, and it could suggest a new class of stellar object.

"The information we do have has some parallels with another emerging class of mysterious objects known as Galactic Centre Radio Transients, including one dubbed the 'cosmic burper,'" said Wang's co-supervisor, David Kaplan, a professor from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

"While our new object, ASKAP J173608.2-321635, does share some properties with GCRTs there are also differences. And we don't really understand those sources, anyway, so this adds to the mystery," he said.

As scientists continue to keep an eye out for more clues, sources from other radio signals have been detected in recent months. In May, NASA traced the source of mysterious fast radio bursts sending signals to Earth.
