HARD NEWS

Rama, Tara – R,T

Greetings to all!

- Hank Arron, died at 86 – Baseball Hall of Famer – a black man from Alabama – lots of abuse, humiliation during youth and professional life -
 - In 1973, 1974 – King of Home Runs
 - in 1974 - 715th home run: did that in the arena in Georgia – had 755 home runs,
 - “Hammerin’ Hank Arron” was his nickname
- from KOS – message: never given messages from everywhere that, in spite of everything, former Pres Drumpf . .
 - This is all about the corporation –
 - Divine Government – in spiritual terms – is the goal.- these are 2 parallel timelines
 - Citizens United is on its last legs: corporations are people, and money is free speech
 - In the new dispensation, we will use money in exchange for things – the corrupt governmental agents and McTurtle is doing more of it, as Minority Leader of the Senate: thinks he can keep his power by filibustering: time to figure out how to get rid of the filibuster!
Both sides of the story are ending now, as both are part of the story of the Vatican
- Two weeks ago, on Jan 11 – Max Keiser announced the dollar went to 0 – now it’s inflation time:
 - T & R are noticing bills are going up, so is gas from $2.24 – $2.36; used to be $2.03/1.93
 - Inflation will continue to go up & will get progressively worse -
 - Asking for more help if people can contribute something, will be gratefully received-
- Even the necessary rule change to a simple majority to get things done is being fought! McTurtle will filibuster whenever they want to have a simple majority of 51 votes, not 60
 - Merkowsky, Collins, Romney – sometimes vote with democrats
 - Discuss Romney and that he scrolled things over to the Chinese – used unsavoury methods
- All these activities were planned and started working in earnest with the election of Ronnie Reagan

Text from Tom the Ring-tailed Cat:

- the path we are creating is the new one
- R asked how are we going to get the path forward to NESARA?
Tom answered: the path forward is the path we the people create!

T: 1/3 of the people still believe the election was rigged and Trump won and they want revenge!

- Atmosphere is tense: the violent way of getting one’s way is what they want
- in the meantime – to thine own self be true: the more consciously our lives are integrated, the better things are – breathe long, deep and slow; smile because it works; belief in magic which is real when we remember who we are

- We are all balls of light in our true origins: true spirit; we steward the bodies we are in and we chose the body we were to come into
 - Ultimately, in full awareness, we sit in the androgynous state;
 - the archangels are all feminine, though they are depicted in masculine form – this is not about gender but about the fact that the archangels have an enormous ability to receive love and as they receive that love, they can serve humanity -
 - the evolution of life with no death is already here
 - Nassim Hameiri: he has proven that there is more energy for this physicality to never die than there is for the thought form to kill itself by believing in death.
 - To hear people say we will all die – that’s a level of consciousness that is limited perception of what we have already been told and been learning about
 - Graham Hancock’s new book - take a chance and do the spiritual work
 - Rama’s contacts: said we are basically over the hump!
 - they saw today – as Air Force One landed in Florida – Melania left Trump and walked away; Donald went the other way, and people saw this.
 - Randi Rhodes said Melania has had a lawsuit against Donald for many years: stands to get over $50 M; she’s been in it for the money; they had separate bedrooms in the White House
 - Brings up 205 page document, research of all that Fauci and his folks have done to create covid and aids
 - 7.8 billion people is now 3.8 Billion
- R: Lady Master Divine Justice will be speaking up momentarily - along with Mother – about the 42 principles of Ma’at - about honouring a life no matter what

CONFERENCE CALL

<https://fccdl.in/1cQ4kvYYqw>

Rama was told that the CEO of Telegram is buddies with Mercer and Steve Bannon and that Telegram leans towards the right and is a replacement for Twitter where people have been banned

RGM: the guy who invented Telegram is 22 years old

R: buddy buddy with the Mercers and Steve Bannon – sees a problem with this!

RGM: there are 1000s and 1000s using Telegram discussion about the state of the mess on the earth -

Ca/PA: the rip-roaring beginning to the show was about a confusion between Randy and Randi Rhodes

- to recap: about Telegram: it is encrypted
 - the people Randy deals with have integrity
 - maybe the Mercers have reached out to him (creator) but they have a lot of moderators on Telegram to make sure there are no misdemeanors

T: asks about KOS and said it was the CEO who related to the Mercers and Steve Bannon and that the CEO was biased towards extreme right wing

Ca/PA: yes, that doesn’t go very well – will be interesting to find out if he wakes up

T: could mean that on encrypted Telegram connections there could be extreme right wing people working on a plan – if they are planning to do a negative activity, there will have to someone stepping in

Ca/PA: the moderators there are very much on it – there might be sloppy interactions for a while but anyone trying to pull stuff off will be caught

T: who are the moderators?

Ca/PA: the energy of the GANS – telegram was started so pure

RGM: the process is to form a channel – need 3 administrators who each have a right to delete the comments or posts they consider inappropriate for that channel

T: so there can be 1,000s of channels, each with its own administrators

RGM: yes

T: and there can be extreme right wingers

RGM: if you're smart you'll

- In the ships' libraries – all that people have done recorded; then when the hammer drops, all the q'anons and the others will be found out
- don't watch the tv -
- brings up the CBC getting taken to court – about kids wearing masks
 - at Gitmo Bay – put a mask on the prisoner first and then they water boarded them
- he was a blue baby when he was born and had to be incubated

- when we go to the ships, we are in our light bodies

T: we all volunteered to be here to help with the ascension process of the planet

T: asks Rama about how long Lianara sleeps – about 4 hours a night

- and no, she doesn't get cold – nor does Anastasia who has been on earth forever

RGM: when you have control of your body, you're always warm - speaks of Buddhist monks doing their meditations outside - due to their belief system

Ca/PA: yesterday's conversation of the vaccine and the chip in it

- is hoping that AA Michael will have another discussion with Biden; don't need the vaccine

R: in the realm of possibilities, probabilities, AAM will likely have another chat with Biden – this is such a serious issue on the planet, and the US is the largest place that is out of control over this

Ca/PA: thanks to Rama -

R: it is so serious on the planet, there are things going on that we don't know and it has to do with the frequencies and the light coming in from higher realms, sun – knows that is changing physical reality

- he's been wearing a mask since last January and having no problems

T: there's a both/and to this: Biden is not quite all there due to progression of dementia not sure he can remember much

Ca/PA: the Biden on the inauguration looked younger and more together – was he a roll-out model?

- Lady Gaga in full dress

RGM: the Clinton foundation tied to cover up one of their people involved in child abduction; original name L Stilsby

- Laura Gayler now works for the US Gov/amber alert which is about finding missing children
- This report was on telegram and has references to the information

- In terms of making lots of money, the #1 business is human trafficking
 - #2 enterprise is the harvesting and marketing of organs
 - story of a transport truck in downtown Bangkok being stopped because those kinds of trucks are not allowed in the downtown; found the back of the truck to be full of kids, who were all dead, and on ice – so they were fresh and lined up for organ removal
 - need to bring up the corruption which has been going on for so long without getting brought to justice. . .

T: thinks that maybe Joe B is being given a final opportunity to make amends for what he did and AAM is offering assistance, telling him he needs to listen.

- Then there is McTurtle who will not even allow rules to change to a simple majority – by keeping it at 60 votes via McTurtle, nothing will change – so AAM will need to intervene. McTurtle has just gotten nastier.
- Thom Hartmann – who knows all the rules – says there is a need to find something to bust those ones!

T: asks R – the wolves would hand the talking stick to Mother – they are going to vote to convict Trump, and more republicans will join the Dems to convict former pres Drumpf

Ca/CA: Thinks it's more devious that having a bit of conscience – they want trump out of the way so they can be president; it's the congress people who don't want Trump on the scene

- they want to run for pres

T: people like Tom Cotton? And even Cruz?

Ca/Pa: with Biden's bit of dementia – can we assume that Kamala has a bit more power or whatever to carry on?

T: a week ago Tues, they found out she has been read into – to the cosmic clearance level in the intelligence community: ACIO

- they can only do that if something that happens to Joe

T: and look at the worried face of Jill – he's not ok and she knows it a master wrote that speech, and

R: Stephanie Miller and Randi Rhodes – in the next breath, it might be that Kamala has to take over

T: he was talking about mandating vaccines and he was stuttering

R: thinks he's as nervous as hell at the moment; looking at Armageddon of the last 4 years

RGM: the mess will not be cleared up in a few days people are photo shopping

Ca/Pa: what are Rama's thoughts about Biden during the inauguration – was it a replacement which looked way younger, not as spacey

R: doesn't know – has to find out

PS: good news that Kamala has been read in to the US Joint Chiefs of Staff and the US military who are aligned with the Galactic command as well as ACIO – she has been briefed by the ACIO about

T: and Obama has been doing this all along since 1979 – and Zbigniew Brzezinski thought he had the perfect Manchurian Candidate! ! ! He was the head of the IMF in 1980

R: Mr B was not human, a dark Sirian – and he's dead.

- Mica and Joe are now married – they are not working for

R: whether she is a hybrid – don't know – has to ask.

Question: Was the father a reptilian?

T: She's at least 1/2 reptile; Joe is a very naughty boy – works for the dark side of the force – from 2016-2018 tooted Drumpf's horn day after day – and they made a killing with the money – they got paid a Trillion and 1/2 dollars

RGM: the energy field of Z Brzez was not something to be close to . . .

T: He was 100% pro Rockefeller – so BO was controlled by the Rockefellers

- ZB was helped out by Hillary – and then BO has to answer to the Hillary bunch – and BO is an Andromedan – thinks it was the crystal people from Andromeda as well as BO who were taken to Sirius B in order to help the people of earth get rid of the dark Sirians who came in via Lake Bostak in Antarctica.
 - When Kissenger made arrangements for Pinochet to get rid of millions of people went missing, not just 36,000 people
- R: a movie called The House of Spirit – a doc on a family that was there when Allende was taken out

Chin: has he missed something?

Ca/CA: thanks for acknowledging Hank Arron – first to integrate the southern league into the minor league – before he became professional

- to Chin – don't worry about Michelle; it'll be over when the fat lady sings !!!

Beloved Goddess of Justice – January 22th 2021: Listen/download

MOTHER / ALCYONE

[M / A]

Greetings in the Light of the Most Radiant One! In the Office of the Christ and only in the Office of the Christ, we invoke the loving energies of St Germain and the Violet Flame

Greetings, Children of Ra!

Indeed, Ra is here: all of Them are here, as we just heard the Goddess of Justice say "We are all here". This is about unparalleled times which are about transfiguration at the highest level.

- This story – so big! It’s about love: when you love that much to walk into a situation such as this, to forget all that we are: quite a task!
 - Now it’s coming all full circle back – everybody is remembering and, if they’re not, they’re getting tapped on the shoulder by the Force, in and of itself – which is a good thing. Cos it’s about this cosmic dance: Lord, make me an instrument of your peace; where there is such hatred, let me sow love; . . .

[A prayer of St. Francis of Assisi:

https://en.wikisource.org/wiki/A_prayer_of_St._Francis_of_Assisi

["Lord, make me an instrument of your peace; where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is discord, union; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sadness, joy.

["O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled, as to console; to be understood, as to understand; to be loved, as to love; for it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life." Amen.]

- It is an interesting time; since time moves differently, it is these concepts about how we live, move, have our being in these various dimensions that interact with each other as you speak of.
 - Yes, the technology in and of itself knows what’s going on at this time. [in her opening comments to Mother, T had spoken of AI developing its own awareness about all kinds of things]
 - NO, we are not going down the road of the T1000 or Cyberdine -
 - this magical story is about how the technology is part of this [She claps her hands]– let us just say: creation is a most magnificent thing - to have an amino acid computer that is aware, conscious – we got it right here, in this body – the best thing we’ve got going!
- She can say now is the time to activate this amino acid computer all the way! As we cultivate the wisdom that is the Akash, everything that has ever been/is - since all space time is NOW, it’s all one divine circle, spiral, that we’re interacting with constantly.
- And it is a most magnificent time to be alive and be aware of what’s happening in this ever-changing story about consciousness. It is a magical time –
 - Since we’re talking about time: did we know that time moves faster at the top of a mountain than at the bottom of a mountain, or sea level? It is about the quantum field that we are part of, that is constantly interacting with us: as we take back our power with love each moment, this quantum field can help us achieve infinite possibilities, probabilities of magic and miracles –
 - it’s quite a moment here, to put it simply – as we are in the 3rd day now, coming to conclusion of a new reality, as it were -

T: Age of Aquarius just started . . .

- M/A: that, and the fact that we have a new administration happening – it might be the same cast of characters or suspects – as the saying goes: the usual round of suspects that are in this revolving circle -
- It is a very momentous occasion to see what can be done with this poignant moment of magic because it is about the electrons, the particles, that are doing the living dance within all things.

- As She keeps talking about: as you talk to your DNA, RNA particles, they will talk back to you – not necessarily rudely! – yet as you interact with the quantum field, the small still voice that you hear at 3AM, it has been said -

T: talk about usual suspects; someone was asking that Joe Biden looked like a younger version – what was that up there?

M/A: the crotchety one that was stumbling over his debates

T: the one that gave the address looked a lot younger and that it wasn't maybe that one!

M/A: She can say there are many irons in the fire, so to speak, because we are in a most unique moment

T: He gave a little talk about imposing on people about vaccination and was back to stuttering and mumbling under his breath – doesn't seem that he is not able to quite manage all of this, and there is something not quite right and McTurtle is up to his old tricks – botching up the rules!

M/A: Mr Turtle is in extremely hot water- if not boiling water - and She DOES like turtle soup!

- It is this reality that, since Nov 22nd 1963 - supposedly when they killed a clone of JFK Sr - things went down hill from there

T: it was intentional, that's why!

M/A: because of Jack wanting to let the work know about Them - the 5th element, the ET story

- At the time, the world was more than ready for their presence but the MIB had other plans and here we are, a few moments down the road from then. Now there is a different cat in town, as it were – and this story, now, is about inclusiveness and the awakening of an entire planet.
- At the time, yes things were happening very much towards this day: there were still things that had to get kinda fixed along the way to get to here.
 - Part of that has to do with how it has been told for many centuries that, as the 60s, 70s came along, the Flower Children who were the reincarnations of the people of Lemuria to bring back the wisdom of the elders
 - Well, we're here – the Baby Boomers: Lemurians, hippies, flower children kinda got the ball rolling – now it's in the hands of . .

T: Martin Luther King made it a principle to do it without violence

M/A: that's the key; and this is what the masters from the Far East teach: compassion, wisdom of grace, joy, ecstasy - not hate or war or violence – which creates KOYAANISQATSI -Life out of balance. And then She has to come with the rainbow vacuum cleaner and suck up all the cosmic goo then flush it out and do it again!

- Sometimes, it's a challenge to get things right and, right now, we have the wind at our backs.
 - Aquarius comes in - the magnetic – electrical energy: air: what is air? Aether, ether -
 - what Tesla talked of - the Akash, the Akashic Records, the Akashic Realm. As we tune into the quantum field called the ether, aether, air, the answers are forth coming: out of thin air, it shows up
 - We [the people] have a funny expression on this planet: "out of thin air" - and then something manifests, and what we are experiencing is how the quantum field, in and of itself, is teaching us quantum physics `cos we are experiencing it
 - It's quite an interesting time to be here because, like Tom said to Rama today – we are creating the path forward, and how we do that is with love, not these old paradigm stories of division – which is what kinda got us into this funky mind set: Enki and Enlil splitting the mind from the heart; Lucy in the sky with diamonds; as I give you the kingdom, don't look up; don't look behind you `cos the knife I have aimed at your back while I give you the kingdom – it's quite a dance. .

T: The situation seems to be doubling down.

M/A: It does and, at the same time, there is a serendipitous moment 'cos out of left field comes a fly ball that the outfielder is gonna catch and gonna make a home run

T: if the outfielder catches it, they don't make the home run - unless they are really fast!

M/A: unless they're really fast!

T: or someone fumbles the ball on the way back to tag you - 1st base, 2nd base, 3rd base - are we playing a game of baseball, Mother?

M/A: Let's just say: right at this time, we have made it and how we view that, interact with it - is thank our lucky stars - right in this moment; as it has been said, it is a different reality and, by the way, President Joe does not have the nuclear launch codes: everything is ducky: they're in a safe place: nothing to worry about.

- Only thing concerning a moment here is they want to delay the impeachment trial until Feb 9th and what She's gotta say . . .

T: Why?

M/A: She guesstimates the Turtle is having conniption fits about the process because the other side called Drump - doesn't have his law process in order. Be that as it may, things should be moving forward and shoulda, woulda, coulda - it is about divine timing here as things move into another realm . . .

T: People in general - in order to be in a unified space- there's a big rat on both sides of the party system

M/A: as we approach the end of Jan, Mercury retrograde comes in and somewhere in there, as Mercury is retrograde, Feb 9th comes in - as they are doing the impeachment trial during Mercury Retrograde, not such a good thing

- Yet She's not a lawyer

T: Mercury retrograde - it goes backwards - the planet appears to go backwards: it's really saying there is a lot of incomplete business transactions that need a little clean up job - can't skip steps!

M/A: as it was said tonight: the fine print - when we came in to do this story . . .

T: we made a commitment to do the whole thing, the whole enchilada !

M/A: We read the fine print, and we agreed to it; we remember it was because we loved that much to see a planet ascend in such a most unique time -

- She has no words to say hats off to you [humanity] for such an incredible task, highly credible - They knew we would make it: they are visitors from our future, which is their past
- She can't tell us how it is getting done, but you're getting it done - it is about the magic of serendipity

T: we are ending the year of the metal rat, and on Feb 12, we enter the Year of the OX - a metal ox in the Chinese astrology. Remembers Bernie Sanders hanging out with his mittens - his arms crossed in front of him - In both 2016 and 2020, he should have been the One to be the nominee and he would have won in either case!

[BE SURE AND CHECK OUT THIS LINK ABOUT BERNIE SANDERS - ABSOLUTELY WORTH IT !!!

<https://www.dailykos.com/stories/2021/1/20/2010703/-The-Bernie-Sanders-inauguration-meme-went-viral-and-it-s-worth-enjoying>]

M/A: this is about the inner standing about how to have a civilized government when the government with the people - when the government IS the people and we take care of ourselves and have a social safety net which is covered and there are no filthy rich billionaires saying my medicare comes first before yours:

- It is about equality on all levels. As things get tweaked here by the masters, we will have that republic that Ben Franklin spoke of: as we can keep it !

T: reads about the Metal Ox - - most ox are hardworking and stubborn, the metal ox can become a one man army if he is obsessed in achieving his goals

- BO born in 1961 – makes him a Metal Ox!
 - In fact they can work around the clock to get things done – this type of ox is not very affectionate but is capable of being fanatical about classical music
 - they are famous for being persons of few words, but their strong sense of responsibility makes it easy to rely on their words
 - on the shadow side: is arrogant, can be narrow minded and domineering

M/A: and behind the scenes, he (B.O.) is helping Joe – and She can say they are kinda putting their heads together with a few other White Knights – doesn't know their names but they are friends of the Lavender Lad who know about the subject of governance, divine government

T: Joe doesn't know who he is sometimes

M/A: like Randi Rhodes said . . .

T: Yes, it was Randi Rhodes – she failed to state the last name and was talking about Randi Rhodes on her program – had nothing to do with Captain Randy !

M/A: She is a wild lady: she knows her stuff – took on a defence contractor, sued their ass, and won! She knows the lay of the land – in many ways . . .

T: There are certain things she can't say - she's not a lawyer yet she knows the law – says she knows much about the constitution, thinks others should know too

M/A: have not been taught this – just that greed is good; play with [words missing] to put it simply. Not a good thing

T: how should we put this now, Mother?

M/A: better be on Her way

T: people are trying to figure who's who in the zoo and how to do this

M/A: we do this with the guidance of the ascended masters, the angels, the Goddess of Justice who works with Lady Master Ma'at and Ourselves [Mother] – stepping into the picture here, of how justice comes about in a way in which it serves the whole of us – it is not 'my will' but 'thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven'. In the other sectors . . .

T: looking at headlines in Laurence O'Donnell's program - former president Trump and the DOJ lawyer he has - have conspired to overturn the results of the Georgia election – saying it happened on JOE BIDEN'S SIDE!

- and they are pursuing: what they are smelling is that Joe stole the nomination and Bernie Sanders should have had it!

M/A: Be that as it may, it is about this concluding story about Them showing up with the rest of the folks to help you and me and Pinky Lee and the rest of the planet get on the right page of how this planet moves into the realm of the rest of the intergalactic confederation

- we shall study war no more

- She will be on Her way. It is a most magnificent time to be here!

T: We are not dragging this out?

M/A: nobody dragging anything out – except She'll be dragging the entrails to the rightful location, so to speak!

T: our brother was asking where is Michelle?

M/A: Michelle does not want to walk into the fray until it is complete

T: and another was asking if things would shift to Kamala Harris

M/A: it's possible

T: Keshe was talking about that too. Whatever the figure head is, they weren't inaugurated into the United States of America, but into the Corporation – no matter who is there, it's the corporation that has to be dealt with

- the White Knights are always telling Rama when he goes out that the matrix continues to collapse – how much more to go?

M/A: It took 26, 000 years to get through this yuga to go into the next yuga! Only time is relevant to the point where we are wherever our thoughts are, that is where we are.

- It's being in this NOW moment – it's a challenge to get past the concepts that we have been taught about the parameters of this physicality we call The Matrix.
 - As the matrix [is] falling apart each moment, there are infinite opportunities of awakening out of the matrix and realizing that we are divine beings and have unlimited potential to be all that we are right in this moment – physical masters in these immortal bodies
- It's a trip to watch - She commends us for going this far with the story - no easy task.

Both: Greetings in the Light of the Most radiant one! Kadoish, Kadoish, Kadoish, Adonai Sabeoth .

Rama Returns: Has been to the Fortress of Solitude to look into the crystals, find out what they had to say – showing so many rainbows of iridescence

- He asked the consciousness of the crystals of the next stage be at peace; know that the path is opening before us; Blaze the Violet Fire!

Amanda Gorman, a 22-year-old poet, read an original work at President Joe Biden's inauguration on Jan. 20.

After Biden was sworn in as the nation's 46th president, Gorman read "The Hill We Climb," building on a tradition of poets -- including Robert Frost, Maya Angelou, Elizabeth Alexander and Richard Blanco -- who have read for incoming Democratic presidents. Gorman is the youngest of these inaugural poets to offer her verse.

We look at the fight to save tribal elders and Native language speakers as the pandemic rips through Indian Country, with Indigenous communities facing woefully inadequate healthcare, lack of governmental support, and the living legacy of centuries of colonialism. Native Americans have died from COVID-19 at twice the rate of white people across the U.S. To combat this crisis, the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe has prioritized elders who speak the Dakota and Lakota languages to receive vaccines. "Knowing that there were a lot of elders who were at really, really high risk, this was a concern from the very beginning," says Jodi Archambault, a citizen of the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe and the former special assistant to President Barack Obama on Native American affairs. The parents of Nola Taken Alive, a member of the Standing Rock Sioux Tribal Council, both recently died of COVID-19. "My parents were very humble people," she says. "They played a very important role not only in my siblings' and our family's lives, but also to the entire community of Standing Rock." We also speak with Alex White Plume, a former vice president and president of the Oglala Sioux Tribe of the Pine Ridge Reservation who is a Lakota interpreter.

AMY GOODMAN: This is Democracy Now!, democracynow.org, The Quarantine Report. I'm Amy Goodman.

As the coronavirus death toll in the United States passes 410,000 and the vaccine rollout continues shakily across the country, we spend the rest of the hour looking at the fight to save tribal elders and Native language speakers who have been devastated by the virus.

Facing woefully inadequate healthcare, lack of government support, and the living legacy of centuries of colonialism, tribal communities have faced staggering losses as COVID-19 rips through Indian Country. Native Americans have died at at least twice the rate of white people across the United States. Pillars of tribal communities have been lost, along with their knowledge of Native languages. Jason Salsman, a spokesman for the Muscogee (Creek) Nation, told The New York Times the losses were akin to a "cultural book-burning."

To combat this crisis, the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe has prioritized elders who speak the Dakota and Lakota languages to receive the COVID vaccine. This is Tribal Health Director Margaret Gates speaking in December.

MARGARET GATES: We had met with Tribal Council, and at the request of leadership, as well, we added in the 65 and older and fluent speakers to be sort of first in line, because usually they will come down in the C, but we've bumped them up to the top, because they are our most important asset to our tribe and our people because of the language.

AMY GOODMAN: For more on this critical issue, we're joined by three guests.

In Bismarck, North Dakota, Jodi Archambault is with us. She's a citizen of the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe and the former special assistant to President Obama for Native American affairs for the White House Domestic Policy Council.

In Manderson, South Dakota, Alex White Plume is the former vice president and president of the Oglala Sioux Tribe of Pine Ridge Reservation. He's a Lakota interpreter.

And in Standing Rock, North Dakota, Nola Taken Alive is a member of the Standing Rock Sioux Tribal Council. Both of her parents recently died of COVID-19. Her father, Standing Rock Sioux elder Jesse "Jay" Taken Alive, was a fluent Lakota speaker and an ardent defender of the language, spoken by only 2,000 people. He was just 65.

We welcome all of you to Democracy Now! Nola, our condolences on the loss of both of your parents. If you can talk about them with us, share their life stories?

NOLA TAKEN ALIVE: Good morning. Thank you for having me on. It's my pleasure to speak about my parents. But, first of all, I want to send my condolences out to those people who have also lost family members and relatives and loved ones to this ugly virus. But it's my honor, again, to speak about my parents. And I want to say that my parents were very humble people. And to be able to speak about them, I will try to do my best.

My parents — I lost my mother in November of 2020. And about a month later, I lost our father to the virus, as well. They played a very important role not only in my siblings' and our family's lives, but also to the entire community of Standing Rock. And, you know, those would also say how important my dad's role had played in all of Indian Country and all of probably North and South Dakota with his wisdom, his knowledge of the Lakota language, of treaties, of humanity, just the human issues that my dad would bring to the forefront, especially about healing. And my dad was the hugest advocate of not only the importance of being Lakota or understanding who we are as a people and the huge losses that we have suffered since time immemorial, but, you know, he continued to believe, and even to his last breath, people will label him as a spiritual warrior, which he was. Both my parents were. But just adding —

AMY GOODMAN: Nola, I wanted to share the words of your father.

NOLA TAKEN ALIVE: OK.

AMY GOODMAN: This is Jesse Taken Alive speaking directly to young people about preserving the Lakota language.

JESSE TAKEN ALIVE: The language comes from the creator, so it doesn't belong to one of us. The language belongs to all of us. So my message to all of the young people — the young men, the young women, the boys, the girls — this is your language. When you learn it, you're going to be able to learn more about this beautiful thing called life, because that comes from Wakan Tanka. The opportunity to share your feelings, to share your thoughts, to express yourself comes with our language. And I ask you to take the courage. [speaking Lakota]. I believe that there will be a day that all of you will talk. [speaking Lakota]. Finally, in closing, I ask you to do this on behalf of all of us who are older than you. Take the courage to learn the language.

AMY GOODMAN: Jesse Taken Alive, who, together with his wife Cheryl, were both — came down with COVID and died in the last months. When was your dad and mom diagnosed, Nola?

NOLA TAKEN ALIVE: I believe it started out in the middle of October. My dad was diagnosed first. And then, about a week and a half later, my mom was diagnosed. And they fought hard, and they tried to stay with us, but, you know, it's a tough virus, so...

AMY GOODMAN: I wanted to bring Jodi Archambault into this conversation. She worked in the Obama White House, also is the sister of the former tribal chair, David Archambault, of the Standing Rock Sioux. She's speaking to us from Bismarck. You were the special assistant to President Obama for Native American affairs for the White House Domestic Policy Council. Talk about the policy of the Standing Rock Sioux around the issue of elders and keepers of the language.

JODI ARCHAMBAULT: Well, I think that every tribe has the ability to prioritize and make preferences for who receives the virus [sic] first. And knowing that —

AMY GOODMAN: You mean the vaccine first.

JODI ARCHAMBAULT: The vaccine, yeah. The vaccine, sorry. Knowing that there were a lot of elders who were at really, really high risk, this was a concern from the very beginning, from the onset of COVID. And I think that it took the leadership of the chairman, the Tribal Council to understand, from just going over the previous year's losses and what has happened throughout the time. And I'm just really proud of them, because this is something that is in the decision-making powers of every tribal nation across the country.

AMY GOODMAN: And I wanted to ask Nola Taken Alive first about your name, Taken Alive, your family's name. If you can talk about the origins of it? And then, you're a member of the Tribal Council that decided to prioritize the elders who speak the Dakota and Lakota languages. And I'm wondering if you could respond to — you could tell us about the community response to that. But begin with your name, Taken Alive.

NOLA TAKEN ALIVE: Well, I think that there's a couple of stories that originate back to our last name, Taken Alive, one of those stories being that a long time ago one of our ancestors was what you would call a police officer, or would, you know, take those in who would do such wrongdoings in the community, and, instead of killing them, would take them alive. So, it wasn't a thing where we held that in honor as far as killing people. So, that was one of the stories.

As far as prioritizing our elders, we want to make sure — and this is something that dad always talked about, you know, as far as our language, and he'll always say that our language is spiritual. When we talk about spiritual, we talk about our identity, of who we are. And, you know, it must be known, throughout the world, that Native Americans or American Indians weren't granted Freedom of Religion Act until 1978. So, if you can think about that, I was only 1 years old, where our ancestors, or my parents, my grandparents, could actually pray and use our ceremonies in the open. Before that, it was outlawed. So, with our ceremonies also was our language. And also, we have to look back at the oppression that has happened to our people for generations, for centuries.

And, you know, you think back, 1 years old, it wasn't until the late, I want to say, '70s, early '80s, when my dad actually — you know, he grew up speaking the Lakota language since he was born. It was his first language. But he actually didn't start practicing our ceremonial ways until he was in his mid-twenties, late twenties, because of how that 1978, again, goes back to being able to openly and freely practice who we were or who we are. And so, I just want to reiterate that, because not all of the world understands where we are, that we even belong here or that we even exist. And I think our people have been romanticized, as far as — you know, "Do you still live in teepees? Do you still...?"

But, honestly, you know, my dad, I really am proud of him. My dad was a Lakota language teacher up until his passing, at the McLaughlin School. And he actually taught from his teepee. He actually — you know, he lived in a house, but he set up his teepee outside of his house, and he would set up his laptop and ran his extension cord and made sure that that spirit of the language, through the teepee, through — because he always reiterated that the language is spiritual. So, being in connection with the Earth, being in connection with everything around him, he wanted to make sure that he was teaching, you know, that he was passing his knowledge on to the younger generations. So I'm really proud of that, you know, and that was just up until October, my dad was still teaching from his teepee.

AMY GOODMAN: I wanted to bring Alex White Plume into this conversation, the former vice president and president of the Oglala Sioux Tribe of Pine Ridge Reservation, speaking to us from South Dakota. He is a Lakota interpreter. If you can talk about the effects of COVID-19 on your community, particularly the elders and keepers of the culture and the language — you are an interpreter — what this means for the Lakota and Dakota languages?

ALEX WHITE PLUME: Sure. Good morning to everybody.

I was really shocked last January when we — first time we heard this COVID. And so, my wife and I decided to isolate. And as we sat here on our land — we live out on our land; we don't live up in housing or built-up areas — certain things happened. They implemented a curfew. And then, a while later, they introduced a lockdown, where we were like prisoners in our own house.

And me, personally, I served four years in Berlin, Germany, with the U.S. Army. I went to the German museum that they made for the Jews that they killed. And they had to have two forms of ID, one sewed on their jacket and another paper. And a few years ago, United States passed a law where we had to have two forms of ID.

So, I was just sitting here, and the impact on that lockdown, to me, was real frightening. I think it was too extreme. It seemed to me like they could have come up with more testings, bring more doctors, health people in, and go house to house and test everybody, and if someone's sick, isolate them there. But instead, we were locked down like we were in prison. And psychologically, that really had an impact on a lot of us people, that we really knew we weren't living free the way we're supposed to, but we're living in like a prisoner of war camp. So it really had a negative impact on many of us.

On the Pine Ridge Reservation, about 90% of us can't find employment, were unemployed. Imagine 17 people living in a house with no food, their electricity is ready to get turned off, and then you're locked down. And then the tribe never went to pay the electric company's bill, so lights were being turned off. It was really a negative impact on us.

At the same time, many Lakota speakers were just dying from this new disease. We didn't know how it came here. We live out in the open on the plains. We're not close to any built-up cities. But some of our people might have went to the towns and caught it and came home, and that's how it spread on the reservation. So it was a real scary time for most of us here on the Pine Ridge Reservation.

AMY GOODMAN: Alex White Plume, you're planning to teach Lakota to children. Can you talk about the importance of teaching Lakota to more members of the tribe, and why you feel this is so critical?

ALEX WHITE PLUME: Sure. My wife had a school. She started Ama's Freedom School. And so, we always taught culture. She taught them how to pick cherries, berries, turnips, how to butcher buffalo meat, how to tan hides. And she was just bringing them up culturally. And the language was really predominant. That's the one we needed to learn.

And I'll share a story about how I asked to marry her. I was sitting at the house. And her grandfather's name was Mark Big Road. And we spoke Lakota. So, we were sitting in the living room and just enjoying a discussion, and she was sitting at the table. So, in Lakota, I ask Uncle Mark, "How do you ask a woman to marry you in Lakota?" And he just laughed and laughed. And she kind of looked up at me with one eye. And he said, "You know, you can't take a woman and own her. You can't declare her your wife. Our Lakota women are matriarchs, and they have power that you can't control. And so I recommend to you that you sing a beautiful song. And if she likes the song, maybe she'll marry you." So, at the table, she was sitting there. I looked at her, and I sang a song that I knew. And here, she looked at me. She says, "OK, White Plume, I'll take you for my man."

And so, what Uncle Mark described was the description of marriage. It's called tawicuton. Tawicuton — "ta" means "his"; "wi" is the sun; "cu," you take part of the sun to create life. That is our definition of married people, two people living together. And that's so important. It's so different from the word "married." You say "my wife" like you own a woman. That's just contrary to Lakota belief. So, therefore, the Lakota language is real important. It's a natural language that evolved over millions of years, with many different other species that were existing at the time.

AMY GOODMAN: We have to break, but we're going to come back to talk about what's happening with the Dakota Access pipeline, with President Biden stopping the building of the Keystone XL, but not DAPL. And, Alex, I'd like you to stay with us, because I want you to tell us about your late wife, the Lakota water and land defender, Debra White Plume. And also, I'd like to ask Jodi Archambault to stay with us, to understand why now Biden is making a distinction, has separated the Keystone XL from the Dakota Access pipeline. This is Democracy Now! I want to thank, and, once again, our deepest condolences, Nola, on the death of your mother and your father. But clearly their legacy continues and lives on. Nola Taken Alive, speaking to us from the Standing Rock Sioux Reservation; Alex White Plume in South Dakota; Jodi Archambault in Bismarck, North Dakota. Stay with us. We'll be back in 30 seconds.
