D: INFORMATION ON Dr Keshe:

Introduction to the Keshe website

- There is a wikipedia on the foundation website: lots of definitions and answers to questions there too; also a first aid information page -
- The Kerry Ellis workshops are also good

Opening Comments:

T: Stephen Colbert makes his wife laugh! They're in their own little studios, and she sits there and laughs; his sole audience. There's something about Knowingness that comes through there, even through all the problems with the media, and the controllers.

- Again, we realize that this is the only way that this can be done. Through Love, Peace, and power with Love.
- Bill from Arizona! I pass the talking stick!

Ca/BILL: If you talk to the [etheric] "higher ups" the right way, you can get a lot of things done, can you not?

R: Yes!

COR: What do you mean, Bill?

BILL: I had some issues the past few days, and I got frustrated, so I made my call to the higher ups, and it seems like everything got fixed up.

R: That is that serendipity, when you get to a place where you just say, "Oh, F it!" and you just let it go—the Divine, in a certain way, shows up!

BILL: I didn't get a direct answer, but it just seems—like this morning, I was trying to call Shop Freemart, and their lines were down. Nobody could get through.

- I brought it to their attention [in the higher realms], that I'd like to see something done about it, and a little later I called back and got through.

OMENA: It just goes to prove, Bill—always ask, and trust! Sometimes you're going to get the answer you don't agree with, but you're always going to get the answer!

BILL: Also, I had a printer that went kapoot, and I was trying to fix it, and I called upon the higher beings that I needed some help on this and that, and then later on, it comes to me, that I knew the right things and where to go.

OMENA: Archangel Michael is great with mechanical stuff!

BILL: My printer is working beautifully now!

OMENA: You're manifesting, Bill. That's what you're doing!

BILL: Maybe we can get more things going with the issues we need to get done!

T: And don't bite off more than you can chew! This came from our sister Cheryl from www.archangelictempleofradiance.com – from Eshanya Keelia Christos:

[Reading] 3/3 Portal and Divine Feminine Grace: 3rd March

Today is the 3rd of March, the 3/3 Portal.

- Following on the Virgo Full Moon, the 3/3 portal is all about the energy of the Goddess and the Divine Feminine. It is the energy of the Goddess in Nature and Abundance through Nature, perhaps a fitting energy for this time as the seasons begin to change.
 - This powerful Feminine energy made me think how we are all healing the Divine Feminine within. As the Age of Pisces unfolded two thousand years ago, bringing the Seeds of the Christ Light to Earth, the Divine Feminine was lost and replaced with a distorted and artificial masculine energy that suppressed and enslaved the feminine.

- So many generations of women have suffered under this, and so many are healing wounds so that they can return to their true power as women. And so that men can own their inner Divine Feminine without feeling disempowered.
 - Now is the time to reconnect with the flow of Blessings and Abundance that comes to us when we reconnect with Nature and with the Great Mother and with the true Christ Light. We need to remember where we originated, in the Garden of Nature, as children of the Divine Mother.
 - When we connect to her we discover that she is the source of All Abundance. When we lose that connection, we fall into a feeling of lack and scarcity and fear. When we reconnect we feel that Abundance is part of Who we Are, not something outside of us that we need to search for.
- Have a Blessed 3/3 everyone!

T: 3 + 3 + 8—that's 8 and 5 in the spiral—the Pythagorean theory—which is called Harmony of the Spheres. The square root of the right angle in the Isosceles Triangle, and that is called Pi . . . See [program replay on BBSRadio.com for additional discussion at this point]

Does anybody else have a question or something to share?

COR: I have questions about Rama's report, where King of Swords says, "The old paradigm is falling away. The old timeline cannot continue." Are they being shut down? Are we moving onto the new timeline to where the Light Forces have won?

- What's going on, when he says, "the old timeline cannot continue"? I guess it's because of all the Light coming in?

T: Yes, so we can remain in control. The ability to remain in unconditional Divine Neutrality.

- And again, Stephen Colbert using humour, or our beautiful sister Omena with the faeries.
- [Discussion about Mumia Abu Jabal testing positive for Covid; he is not yet released though not guilty of the crime he was convicted of decades ago]
- So these things, and Lady Master Nada telling [Rama] that she is in Bhutan, and there are 25,000 starships somewhere in the mountains where everything is protected and they can do this.
 - Just like we've got Princess Di and Dodi alive and well and living in the Wesak Valley at 17,000 feet—high places!
 - And we've got Arundhati Roy on a Tibetan plateau in China somewhere, hanging out with Quan Yin, where healing can take place for the planet.
 - And there is Faction Three White Knight activity protecting all these places.

COR: Would you say that's a big escalation? Is that why King of Swords wanted you to do the show? To pass on this information? What's the crux of it?.

R: Yes—that the timelines are fading away, and we're moving into this unified new timeline of Sat Yuga. Everything that's unlike Sat Yuga is coming up.

T: Netanyahu, who has been pointed out in the news all day today—what did Lady Nada tell you about that?

R: That the ICC [International Criminal Court] are opening up investigations into war crimes being committed in Palestine.

T: And the Gaza Strip and east Jerusalem—

R: This is a story I heard a few days ago on a short wave radio station. There was a hip hop techno deejay—a Palestinian girl, I think in her 20s, and some kind of techno concert recently; she was arrested by the Palestinian police.

- Her story is that the Palestinian police were told by the Israeli occupying forces to arrest her, because this techno concert was supposedly at the tomb where Moses is buried in east Jerusalem, somewhere. That is not the case. Moses is not buried over there. That's a whole other story.

- But it has to do with the occupying forces of Israel in Palestine not allowing these people to live their lives.

T: It's like Penny was saying to me—you feel that you just want to jump up and shout, yet it's almost overwhelming at the same time. [referring back to the news that 25,000 space ships PLUS are in a mountain valley in Bhutan!]

R: Yes!

COR: All right—I'm just trying to grasp the import of this story. There's 25,000 of them. Does that shift the vibration on the planet? Does that mean things have knocked up to a higher level, in terms of what the Light forces are doing?

- Because things are getting weirder on a lot of levels. They're already talking in New York [state] about enforcing—having people carry vaccination and testing passports. So they won't be allowed into public places without that passport, which is complete fascism and complete Nazism, which is not a joke.
- I'm just wondering, where are the levels, in terms of the Light Forces' response?

T: The fact that there's 25,000 starships on the ground from the Pleiades and Sirius—our local Universe—and we're all connected with 26 other galaxies at that Hunab Ku—so you might want to multiply everything into looking at it on a star map, and knowing that we are plugged in at a higher level.

- And of course it's going to be scary too, but the power of us coming together and taking this step is the only way to go.

• Together right now, I'd like to take a moment and send some healing Light and protection to Mumia Abu-Jamal. They have not taken care of—he's got something else going on [medically].

- Yes, who's there?

Ca/SONJA: This refers to the topic of the ICC bringing up more charges against these genocidal individuals in the Middle East and [Israeli prime minister Benjamin] Netanyahu.

- What is happening with the request Netanyahu had made with Biden not to lift the sanctions against the ACC, which Trump had imposed in 2018. Both of them have said ICC members are not coming in to arrest anyone. Last year, Trump said—

T: This happened—with the protection of the Faction Three White Knights, President Obama reinstated the United States into the ICC and the ICJ [International Court of Justice], and it stands! Backed by the Light! No matter what the propaganda of the media—

R: The media on this planet will never acknowledge that.

T: Will never acknowledge that. But we're going to be playing some very wise people's words on the weekend. I urge everyone to come and listen.

- Everything is being very well coordinated in the Light as well, taking this Ascension process all the way up to 5D and beyond. The Green Tara has the mission of coordinating between the 6th and 9th dimensions the whole world and her people and all living things that are on the planet.
- That's my mission statement, and that isn't something we do alone. What we do here at this Roundtable—we're connecting everyone.

SONJA: My question is, the ICC already has in their portfolio the indictments and all the other tribunals we have in the world, right?

T: Absolutely, and then some! It started pretty much in 1940. Quote-unquote "Israel" was created with NO borders. It's a trickster in reverse, in terms of the dark side. Because they decided they were going to absorb all of Palestine. Enslave a whole people.

- Again—some of the war crimes—a specific one against Netanyahu—on his watch, he has his Israeli troops taking pot shots at children. Palestinian people on the other side of their fence.

SONJA: Can the ICC go into Israel arrest Netanyahu for his crimes? They cannot come in here because obviously in duality, they have been blocked. They have not been able to answer. Can they go into Israel arrest Netanyahu for his crimes?

T: It's complicated, and the answer is Yes, Yes, Yes. How that's done, to keep people protected, and who ends up doing it— we got to look at the larger story.

- On Sunday, Oprah Winfrey will be interviewing Prince Harry and Meghan [Markle]. [They are] the Duke and Duchess of Sussex—they kept that [title], but they owe no allegiance to the Crown. You might say, they have what they need—plenty, and they're here to stay. This is not a small thing.

- I remember 30 years ago that Rama was told by the King of Swords and others, that Prince William would not be in the crown lineage at all, because the monarchy is gone with Prince Harry and Meghan. They will exemplify a democratic republic of the UK.

- I just know that it's not over in any sense of the world in terms of our journey. It's just that we've turned a corner all the way pretty much.

- It's over—it's time for the Light now to take their turn. It's a big turn. It's a four times longer yuga! In other words, it's 100,000 years of Peace, as they say in Revelation, plus another 25,000 years or so.

- We are here now in that pivotal moment, so even to begin to grasp that Rana Mu is from 175 million years in our future, and has come to our present to change the outcome. That timeline which she could see from 175 million years in the future, where 1/3 of the entire Milky Way galaxy had already been destroyed.

- So to erase that timeline, she would come with that Wisdom and that Knowledge to share now!

R: And so many different folks are picking up on this, with the different channelings and meditations. Because this particular time in Earth's story, as we move closer to Galactic Center—it is the appointed time, if you will.

- About how everybody gets introduced to our friends and neighbours, who do not necessarily look like us. And this is one of the biggest issues right now that is front and center on this planet.

- I have to bring it into the context of what is being played out right now with what's going on in the District of Columbia / District of Criminals—we have to get past the issues of what we look like.

T: To spite the nose on our faces! You've said this in so many different ways, and your people told you the same thing: The technology, with the announcement of NESARA that gets unleashed—how do you grasp that there's 60,000 of these technologies released in the 70 years that they've been sitting on, because they're scared out of their minds as to how to behave.

R: Part of this has to do with xenophobia, and some words that have been bandied about, called systemic racism. This has to do with a lot of the altered history and herstory of our planet and the various cultures, and how we interacted with the various civilizations.

- What keeps being brought to my attention right now, amidst all the political chess pieces and games going on: More and more disclosure is unravelling about how Earth is so much older [than what we've been told], and the other civilizations are so much older.
- There are videos and other forms of communication coming forward that reveal other parts of the stories that haven't been told since the time that we had a huge situation going on, on the planet, like Greg Braden describes. The last time around was 12,000 or 13,000 years ago, and we all know what happened, with the Flood.
- And I have to bring it back into the realm of the Annunaki—Enki and Enlil knew that Nibiru was coming in, that it was going to cause waves throughout the solar system. There are stories coming out now from Graham Hancock and many other whistleblowers, that right now, we are parallel [with those events], and seeing the exact same Earth changes that happened back then.
 - We're not going to do that [level of destruction] again. There is intervention unfolding, but it is about us waking up to who we are, and using the Force in loving presence to open our hearts to our fellow neighbours, whether they are galactic neighbours or the neighbours across the street. Whether they are blue or green or purple, or have antennas or antlers or fur. Or feathers. Or are inter-dimensional beings.

All of this is part of our present moment culture, right now. How we can shift this and change this, like John Lennon said—"Imagine all the people living in Peace" and harmony.

- As we get past these images of these issues about the differences and look at the similarities of who we are and how we can connect—I keep getting reminded of Chief Seattle's message: "Every part of this Earth is sacred to my people."
 - This is what's being brought forth at this time. This is the biggest thing that is challenging the dark side, because people are waking up more than ever, and claiming their power with Love, and saying, "I will not stand for this violence against my children, against my wife, my brother, my sister." I'm speaking about the issues going on in the various cities, that have to do with how our cultures haven't been taught, or conveniently, it has been programmed out of us to be kind to each other.
 - There is this exponential shift that is happening. This is that quantum awakening that all the whistleblowers are talking about now.
 - There are folks who are being revived in Antarctica. These are people from before the Flood. The pre-Adamite people. They have answers to why Earth is going through the changes it is going through right now—climate disruption, consciousness, conflict. Just like the last time, 13,000 years ago.
 - This time, there is the balance that's here, which is the Love vibration that's being brought in by the trillions of beings who have answered the clarion call of this planet. That's why I gotta say, Lord Maitreya is here with all the other Ascended Masters and Teachers. And I know there are so many stories out there that have been put out about Lord Maitreya [being] connected with the 13 Families, and yada yada.
- T: Are you talking about the sinking of Atlantis, when you talk about 13,000 years ago? It was about 11,500 BCE. The reverberations are ongoing.
- R: Yes. And as we become conscious and aware of our vibrations, our thought forms, our energy fields as we go about our day in this realm we call Earth, and as we express kindness and generosity and Love, and gratitude and compassion, it changes everything.
- And the dark side knows this. They can't stop what's going on, even though they are trying.
 - I would call this drama at the moment, with injecting people with nanites that hook you up to the 5G and whatever else is out there—it's their idea of trying to control the planet—

T: What we do is meet them with Love. Mother has her way of how she executes Love.

R: That's right. And as the vibration goes up, and we move into kindness and Love, it changes things. Exponentially right now, the Sun is emitting frequencies that our scientists haven't even begun to comprehend.

- The Sun is a living being, just like we're living beings. There are living beings LIVING on the Sun! It's about getting in touch with the consciousness of what's happening. Because as you reach that consciousness and it opens you up to the inner-standing, overstanding, understanding, you realize that every spark of Divinity is here, and we're all connected. I pass the talking stick!

T: Anybody else here, on the panel [who would like to comment]—and I guess we should give the phone number to call in: 888-429-5471 is one number, and 323-744-4841.

- Omena, do I hear you calling out there, something to share with us? Every time I hear your voice—the faeries are helping everything happen! They're everywhere you are!

OMENA: [Chuckles] Did you know that we have Angel faeries? And Archangel faeries? And they're beautiful. Absolutely beautiful.

- And then of course, we have all the mischievous ones too. When we don't pay enough attention to them, they get very mischievous.
- And they're very, very intelligent beings that are very much alive on the Earth. Of course they move [vibrationally] at a much faster rate than we do. That's why we can't see them with the naked eye. Occasionally you can. They will slow down, to visit [with us]. But that's where my world is—with the faeries! [Laughs]
- I'm off with the faeries! No, I'm kidding. The masters don't let me dwell too much with the faeries!

COR: [Laughing] That's an Irish expression for, "She's gone mad!"

OMENA: That's right!

COR: It's based on the old idea that when people changed suddenly or became ill, people in Ireland thought that the faeries had come and taken the essence of that person away, and put a faery spirit into the body. I think that's how it went. Is that how it went, Omena?

OMENA: Well, the thing is, you have different kinds of faeries.

- We always grew up with [the idea that] we couldn't wander very far, or "the faeries would take us." That's how parents would tell children not to wander off too far. Because where we lived, we had fields around us all the time, so they started to instill a little fear about the faeries, because the mischievous ones can do things.
- Faeries can do a bit of magic. We had rings—they called them rods. And that's where the faeries used to go to dance. But now when I think back, they were probably where modern day Wiccan people would go into, in those the circles. It probably comes all the way from the druids, with the circles. But of course the faeries have always been there.
- You would get frightened by the faeries, because there are all different levels of the faeries. And some of them can be very ugly. Not much different from our layers of people on the Earth, where you get some very aggressive, some very loving. All motivated by different things. So it's much the same in the faery realm. And of course you have gnomes too.

T: I think of faery energy too when I watch Stephen Colbert on the Stephen Colbert [Late] Show. He's Irish[-American]. He's working for CBS, yet he can memorize poetry—a strong influence of that kingdom, the way he can use that. He has the ability to use his dialect in that too, and I appreciate that so much.

OMENA: He's very funny!

T: That's a good plus! I think Caroline would agree.

COR: He is! I never miss his show. He is one of the world's experts on Lord of the Rings. There was a Tolkien expert brought in for the Lord of the Rings films, by Peter Jackson—Phillipa something [Boyens]. Colbert was down there while they were filming in New Zealand, and he had a small part to play.

- He and this woman squared off—they had a bit of a competition. She was brought in to be an expert on Tolkien's writing, as a consultant for the film. They had this little competition [on LOTR facts and histories], and Stephen won!

- He can rattle off whole portions of Tolkien's books!

T: Absolutely! He made that person stand down! You betcha!

OMENA: I'm sure he read them years ago when he was much younger. I remember reading them in the Eighties.

T: He grew up with 10 brothers and sisters. There's a lot of things about Ireland—that story [of having large families] is not a new story over there!

COR: The intense thing about his life, is that when he was 10 years old, his father and two of his older brothers, aged 13 and 14, died in a plane crash. They all three died the same day.

- And before that, he'd been a straight A student. Just the perfect kid. And he says that after that he just stopped caring, and he just read science fiction books, and then Lord of the Rings.

- It's very interesting—he would try to make his mother laugh, because she was sad, probably chiefly because of losing two of her boys, as well as her husband. He would try to make her laugh. It's fascinating to see the way his life has unfolded, because what he does now is keep millions of people laughing, even during a pandemic.

- Even during four years of this madman who should never have been allowed to run for public office. He's really a miracle, this fella! I'm astounded by him!

T: He's a total blessing, to be on a main network like that, and reach so many millions of people. He's probably an elven king or something.

R: He very well could be!

T: He very well could be!

Faction Three White Knight News Update

[See <https://www.rainbowroundtable.net/rama-s-contacts> for info on Rama's contacts]

R: Greetings!

T: There's an energy field, on the etheric levels—there's a bombarding going on, like a pulse.

R: Yes, you could say it's that electromagnetic pulse of what we feel from the Sun.

T: It's like balls of Light bombarding us at our auric level, as we do the Ascension work!

Requests that Caroline share the [channeling from the Collective, from February 26, 2021--a conversation with Saint Germain about timing of NESARA's enactment]

R: [in answer to channeling] Ditto!

SEE ARTICLE BELOW

T: We have a history with the one who was the ambassador to Iraq at the time of Bush Sr. His name was Joe Wilson. This was in 2006.

- And he told us then that 2 million US soldiers were already dead, in 2006 in Iraq and Afghanistan. This is why Mother comes now! It's a Justice, where they're not going to allow the same "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." And what did Martin Luther King, Jr say about that?

R: It makes the whole world blind! Like Gandhi often said.

T: And toothless! It's over! That's how I see it. What do you say?

R: It is over! And there are many things going on to bring in the higher realms in the last few days. I am being told there are so many craft here, and things are moving up in octave and speed.

T: So let's read our report from today, how's that for an idea?

R: Yes, and I got to kind of put my heart on my sleeve and put out an emergency message. Our front brakes on the car have to be fixed by tomorrow. I'm down to the metal!

T: You've been taking the side road to get to town, and it's $260 [to get the brakes fixed].

And so, let's do today first:

[Reading Rama's report]

"I received a text message from [Rama's boss] the King of Swords. He said to me, 'All of the old paradigm is falling away. The old timelines cannot continue.

'At this present space-time moment, the life forms that chose to come in and put on the dark cloak are at the edge of transition. There are many issues going on. All of them have to do with Full Disclosure and Divine Government. 'We are fulfilling Saint Germain's promise [made] on our behalf—the Law of One.' "

T: And we are all One. "As one is harmed, all are harmed. As one is helped, all are helped." That beautiful, poetic, transformative way of speaking to this—that meeting table where Peace is declared with Love. And that has to do with yesterday's report. And this is Wednesday--

Rama is saying: "I received a call from Lady Master Nada and Rosa from Palestine today. It was 10 minutes after noon.

- "They said to me, 'Lord Rama, the ICC [International Criminal Court] has opened an investigation into alleged war crimes committed in the Palestinian territories since 2014.
- "Meanwhile, Lady Nada said to me, 'Lord Rama, I am in Bhutan meeting with Sirian and Pleiadean ambassadors who have 25,000 craft on the ground here. 'These folks are here to help with Galactic First Contact, as well as cleaning up the planet. The dark side knows about this, yet they are powerless to stop it.
- 'There is a force field over this area. Russia and China, as well as the United States, have noticed this fuzzy area on Google Earth they cannot penetrate!
- 'These beings that are here radiate the Light of White Fire Core of Being—they are living Suns, meaning Sons and Daughters of the Most High, and more are in orbit.
- 'The time is Now! Remember, we have the power with LOVE! Sat Nam! Namaste! Have a nice day, Lord Rama!'

Do you want to share anything about that, Rama?

R: Just that more and more is coming out, about the various galactic folks that have come to participate in Full Disclosure and First Contact.

- It is about not creating fear stories and dramas. That has been taken to so many heights out there in our present moment. It brings in what the current stories in the news are in the context of. As we can get past the issues of what we look like and how we are—

T: The emergency of all the people in the whole world are on that same page with us.

- There are still millions and millions of people on the streets all over Myanmar. This morning's report was the coup d'état of the military. They opened fire over 24 hours, and killed 38 people by shooting right into the crowds.
- This is when Mother comes—to make that Peace with action. Peace with Love. That's the action! There's a great big old heart here on the board [in the chat section of the Skype connection the co-hosts use].
- And that connection has been made now—isn't that what you were hearing from your Faction Three White Knights?

R: Yes!

T: That the world has made that complete circumference connection [back to the heart]. My sister said something like 661 kilometers per hour—that's fast! That spark of Love is moving that quickly, and it's like shaktipat [Hindu for transmission of spiritual energy] orbiting our planet continuously, in all directions. Everywhere at once and nowhere at all. That's the pulse!

R: Yes, I mean, every day, the energies are moving so much higher!

- When I go out into the world, things are "getting better" quote-unquote with things lightening up. To put it in the context, in Santa Fe—New Mexico is not opening up like Texas, like Mississippi.
- In New Mexico there are red and green and yellow zones, depending on how intense things are with the issues going on with this—I simply want to call it [by the Hopi term] koyaanisqatsi rather than using the word "illness" or "imbalance." It is "life out of balance."

T: And the powers that be, called 500,000 of dark ones, followed—what's that character from Lord of the Rings—

R: Sauron!

T: [Followed] Sauron, to the gates of hell, you might say.

- There are three six-hour videos of the Mahabharata story—going back 5,000 years at least, of war in India in the East.
- And all the Keshe systems, and all of this energy we're in here, in the month of International Women's Month—Women's Peace Day is coming up in March—every facet of this story is woven into the moment.
- The final moment that there is Peace on Earth. That feeling I was sharing with my sister—I don't know if Penny would like to say anything? I call on you, if you'd like. About our conversation.

PENNY: I found some very important information—articles, today. People summing up what's going on in the world in very succinct language.

- Many of us know the name Chris Hedges from—it's usually Friday or Saturday night that Rama and Tara play his interviews on RT TV. This time, this was an article from Robert Scheer's website. It's called "The Age of Social Murder" SEE ARTICLE BELOW [https://scheerpost.com/2021/03/02/hedges-the-age-of-social-murder/] He's talking about, among other things, the mishandling of the global pandemic, and how many people have been killed by it. And that it's nothing short of social murder, and that it's been going on for a long time.
- He goes back to the time [of the Industrial Revolution] in England, with a book by Frederick Engels written in 1845 about The Condition of the Working Class in England. He makes a point of how many people died not directly, but over time, and eventually after they "retired" or left their work. And the people who created these situations in the name of progress and money: They knew that these thousands would perish, and yet they permitted the working conditions to remain. So the deed is murder, just as surely as the deed of the single individual.
"Disguised, malicious murder. Murder against which none can defend himself. Which does not seem what it is, because no man sees the murderer, because the death of the victim seems a natural one, since the offense is one more of omission than commission. "But murder it remains . . ."
- And that's precisely what's going on in the world we're living in.
- And then of course he adds in the question of global warming—that too is going on. The ruling class devotes tremendous resources to mask the social murder. "They control the narrative in the press. They falsify science and data just like the fossil fuel industry has done for decades. They create committees and commissions to pretend that they're addressing the problem, or else they deny it."
 - So the same thing is happening now, that happened in the Industrial Revolution. That's what's going on, and that's one of the things we were talking about. That the people in charge, the people who have the paper, and are the bureaucrats—they're the ones who "made possible the genocides of the past, from the extermination of Native Americans, to the Turkish slaughter of the Armenians, to the Nazi Holocaust, and to Stalin's liquidation.

- The bureaucrats kept the train running. They did the paperwork. They seized the property. They confiscated bank accounts. They processed stuff. They rationed food. They administered the concentration camps. They enforced the law. They did their jobs.

- Then he brings up the idea of Adolf Eichmann [an SS officer who was one of the major organizers of the Holocaust], who was motivated by extraordinary vigilance in looking out for his personal advancement. He joined the Nazi Party because that was a good career move at the time.
 - As Hannah Arendt said—Eichmann in Jerusalem is the name of her book—"His ability to speak was closely connected to his inability to think." And I think we see some of that going on right now. So that's a general overview of what I was talking to Tara about this afternoon.

T: Yeah, and then Rama piped in, Penny, and we asked him about the amount of ships that are orbiting the planet. And what was your answer, Commander?

R: There are millions here! And millions more! This is not being discussed, except in certain places on the internet where let's say, they're not being censored.

- It is about the fact that when these folks are coming in the vibration of the Office of the Christ and Love, it's not about conquest and occupation and invasion. I could say more than anything, Gaia/Vywamus has put the call out, and it is being answered by our galactic neighbors!
- Like Dr Greer [says]—I keep quoting this: "Consciousness doesn't necessarily need a body to contact and talk to you. Just reach out. Use to the Force. You will feel it. It will answer you. And you may be surprised at how intense the feedback comes."
 - Because it is all around us right now. Like I was saying earlier, things are starting to lighten up around here. They're easing restrictions in terms of the pandemic.

T: That's kind of in the wrong direction

R: They are moving slowly in New Mexico. They are not doing what Texas or Mississippi are doing, in any way shape or form. And what they [Texas and Mississippi] are doing—they out of their minds!

T: And they're our neighbors! We share a border with that lovely place!

R: There are folks here who talk about blocking the borders—[talking] on the radio, and I don't know where to go with that.

T: That also has to do with the El Paso area. Those people got connected with the Western grid. So they were going through the same shenanigans that Texas was going through [experiencing power loss due to extreme winter weather]. That's also the place where they did those murders, down there.

PENNY: I would like to add some more, because as I said to you today, Chris Hedges—I really appreciate him, because he lays out situations very clearly. It's not varnished in any way.

- It's usually right on the money. I wouldn't say he's a White Knight, but he knows about NESARA and all the rest of it. So he's making us well aware of what's going on.
- I also wanted to say, to sort of dilute the stuff I was just talking about, was to talk a bit about the money. Many of you have heard about Ellen Brown. She's taken on the cause of having public banking. Having public banks would help the Covid situation. It would help so many situations in the United States at the moment.
 - That is gaining traction. "It's getting legs" more and more in the United States, which is really good news.

- Lee Camp, who's a standup comic, and pretty acerbic at times too—he's talking about "it's time for major wealth distribution."
- As I'm gathering up these articles for Rama & Tara, my overview of this is that these guys are getting us ready for NESARA. For the announcements.
 - Not just by talking about stuff that's going on, like the social murders. We need to know about that.
 - But that there are other people who are pushing the social issues, who are reminding us that change is coming. And it's coming from the people themselves asking for it and wanting it.
- So I just wanted to add a little Light there too, as well as the heaviness of what Chris Hedges was talking about.

T: You know, Chris Hedges has such a multi-dimensionality about him, in terms of choosing theology to do his PhD in, and spending 25 years as a journalist in every hotspot you could think of, and the theological seminary stuff he took all the way through everything.

- He even has spent many years going to prisons, and teaching those ones in prisons, and he knows a library full of stuff going on in his head.

PENNY: And he did quite well with that activity. I remember when he was talking about that. He helped to educate the prisoners so that when they got out, they had backup to work with.

T: Absolutely! We were talking about this a while ago. Somewhere in India, they are doing—

R: The Vipassana meditations in prisons. [Vipassana being "to see things as they really are."]

T: And yoga! And they start at 3:30 in the morning, just like you were living in an ashram in India.

R: This has been going on for many, many years.

T: Decades! There's a few naughty ones who don't think it's profitable enough, or who think it's a danger to their health.

- There's a fulfilment now of the journey, wouldn't you say, Rama?

R: It's come full circle! There are so many folks from the various realms that are here, that are basically manifesting themselves in various ways, to let us know that this seeming timeline that doesn't have a very nice ending is going by the wayside, and the Aquarian Age is here.

- How that is coming about, is "War is Over, If You Want it," as John Lennon said.

T: The idea being that you meet in the center of all that is, with this heart called Hunab Ku - 27 galaxies feeling this together. Not just talking about—these starships, millions upon millions are orbiting our Earth. There's layers. I mean, we've got trillions!

2021-02-26 A Message to Lightworkers – February 26, 2021 by Caroline Oceana Ryan

This week's guidance from the Ascended Masters, Galactics, Earth Elements, Fae Elders, Angelic legions, and Archangels known as the Collective:

Greetings, friends! We are very pleased to have this moment with you today.

Today our writer speaks with one of us in the Collective who is known as Saint Germain, an Ascended Master who is integral to the creation and enactment of NESARA Law:

COR: Greetings, Master Saint Germain! Thank you for speaking with me today.

SAINT GERMAIN: We are here always to assist.

COR: You and I were speaking a day or two ago, and I was asking you about NESARA's unfolding, and what stands between Earth / humanity and that law's full enactment.

SAINT GERMAIN: Indeed!

COR: And you said that there are stages or phases of progression to have to be gone through, before we hit the highest level, at which point NESARA must be enacted.

I got an image of there being about 8 stages, and you commented that we were somewhere between Stages 3 and 4.

SAINT GERMAIN: Noting as well, that the progressions can occur in a day's time. So that one might see a progression from stage 3 or 4 to stage 5 in only a day or two.

And you are closer to 4 now.

COR: That is reassuring.

I felt that you were saying that so that I wouldn't be discouraged by assuming that each stage would take six months to a year or more.

SAINT GERMAIN: Your emotional vibrational level is of your own making!

One could say, "NESARA shall enact fully on this date and time," naming a time quite near the current date, and some would nevertheless feel disappointment that it did not happen this morning!

COR: Yes, I follow.

SAINT GERMAIN: And so—you hold each in one hand, as you will often say: the joyful inevitability of NESARA, and also the great unknown, which for humanity is always, "When?"

Sunset in Ballydesmond, Ireland in the aftermath of high winds and torrential rain. Photo by Sheila Fitzgerald

COR: Does asking “When” slow things down, I wonder?

There seems to be so much built into the human vibration that has to do with holding us back from our co-Creations, because we are stuck in Waiting mode.

Waiting for the outer world to prove itself to us before we feel something is real.

And so many of us quietly (or loudly) carry a cynicism long bred into human life, that says, “I doubt it will ever happen” or “It might happen at some point, but not sure I’ll still be here when it does.”

Purely to protect ourselves from any disappointment, or to keep the skeptical left-brain aspect happy.

SAINT GERMAIN: And yet, your skepticism has not won the day, we note!

Most of humanity is experiencing an anticipation of a Great Change, even if most are unaware of what the details will be.

They have no idea of “what that will look like,” as people say.

Yet their own feelings of anticipation and intuition tell them, great change is afoot!

COR: Does that help to create the moment all the more fully, or all the sooner?

SAINT GERMAIN: Both.

Any heart anywhere that is open to the next higher level of human existence, the next phase of your evolvment, helps hold open that great heavy door to tremendous shift.

And the heaviness is not in the change itself—it is in the movement from the old lower dimensional ways of enacting change to the newer forms.

This has to do with a growing consciousness and awareness of how Light is functioning on the planet.

COR: And so how is it functioning? It's waking people up, certainly.

ST GERMAIN: It is lifting the entire resonance of human experience!

Yes, consciousness. Most assuredly so.

And yet—are you aware that people are more telepathic now as well?

So that whole conversations are being held between persons and groups, between persons and aspects of Nature, without anyone being present in the same place together?

COR: I have been experiencing that myself, yes.

ST GERMAIN: And so—as you speak to others in the etheric plane, consider that there is no distance between you.

This means no separation of viewpoints, of experience, or even of outer manifestation.

In fact distance and its correlative, Time—these are increasingly irrelevant!

People are realizing inwardly, “I need not be held back or defined by these. I can travel via intention and focus. What I envision, I create!”

COR: Most people would have trouble believing that distance and separation between persons are dissolving, when we are currently experiencing in the United States right now, for example, a mind-bending amount of separatism and division.

Enough to make your hair stand on end some days.

SAINT GERMAIN: But you have been taught that such things as telepathic conversation cannot exist!

You have also been taught that either people agree in ways that bend the will of one person to another, or both shall remain eternally separate!
This is nonsense.

We wish now, those of us who speak from both our lives on Earth and from the higher consciousness—we wish for you to understand that there is only a Coming Home now, for all of humanity.

The separations, the divisions—these are but appearances!

They are not real, and they are not representative of where you are headed as a race of beings on a fast-evolving planet.

COR: Are you saying we are more connected than not connected to one another?

SAINT GERMAIN: Most assuredly!

You cannot help now but to be connected in ways that assist you in realizing that the lies you have been told for millennia hold no water—have no resonance to who and what you are all becoming.

And that is an interconnected form of being. Such as what you have been told about how the trees in the forest are interconnected through their roots underground.

They communicate this way, and connect with one another in ongoing community this way—through a sort of neural network—while appearing on the surface to be separate from one another.

As if space and varieties of species mattered! For they do not.

COR: And so how does all this influence NESARA's unfolding?

SAINT GERMAIN: You stray somewhat from the subject, but I shall tie these two points into one.

COR: All right

SAINT GERMAIN: There is increasing evidence of the growing Unity consciousness of the human race.

This means that the desire to continue living, and to become sovereign—despite the destructive attempts of a crude, self-appointed elite to derail not only human consciousness but human life—shows that the focus, the intent for reunification. That and the rebuilding of higher consciousness within humanity have already been established.

The shifts you see around you now would not be so obvious were this not so. We speak of increased awareness of and concern for the environment, for children's and young persons' lives, for the lives of the elderly, those who have hampered abilities, those who have fought in wars and or fled from them, bear the scars of such, and so on.

The increase in compassion—in feeding others and not only oneself, in housing and educating all, in obtaining real and effective medical care for all—none of this would be so obvious had humanity not decided quite emphatically to step into the Light.

COR: And yet our reach does not go so far as that of the old power crowd's destructiveness, does it?

SAINT GERMAIN: It goes much further.

COR: Because consciousness has outrun their physical methods?

SAINT GERMAIN: Of course!

COR: Yet they scheme to implant people with nano-particles that badly restrict consciousness!

SAINT GERMAIN: Much of this is being mitigated to where it will be easily disposed of.

In many cases, it is not taking hold in the body, and being rejected by it.

And there are those whose inventions are assisting with healing and releasing the body from these influences.

Do not give great credence to these schemes, as if they were fated to succeed in most instances.

That is their intent, and so you must face the other way, entirely.

But you wished to return us to the issue of NESARA—a beautiful name that holds a particularly high vibration!

COR: Yes, I think people should name their children that!

And yes—how does that tie in with all of this?

SAINT GERMAIN: It ties in with the events of 1776. The vision that drove such, and now finally, the establishment of a New Atlantis.

That original endeavor got derailed to the point where it was delayed by several centuries—for those who travel amidst the stars, not a long time.

But for those in an Earth body, a long time indeed.

COR: A very long time!

Are you saying, Sir, that the unfolding of the original vision of what the United States, and eventually the world, could be—that that is occurring now, finally?

SAINT GERMAIN: This is something that, despite many diversions to the road, you have been moving forward to for those two and a half centuries of Earth time.

And you have reached a point now where you will not permit it to be delayed any further.

COR: So instead of asking “When” NESARA will be enacted, we need to celebrate within ourselves the very fact of its existence—I want to say “HER” existence, as it is the Divine Mother, assisted by Lady Justice, Lady Liberty, and all goddesses of higher resonance, who are anchoring these energies into our very day-to-day existence.

ST GERMAIN: Ah—now you have left the Earthbound details, and risen higher, to take in the greater picture.

COR: Understandably, you have lifted us vibrationally to see the horizon where NESARA is even now being birthed.

Yet some will say, “There are still millions dying, millions homeless or mired in debt, millions ill or imprisoned, or experiencing desperation in other ways.”

SAINT GERMAIN: And we would say, Stand up, humanity!

Will you allow this to be the outpicturing of your inner life?

Or will you remember who you are—gods and goddesses, Angelics, devas, and Crystal Beings in human form, among other great personages—and reclaim your planet with your vibration first and foremost?

For that is where the war, and not only the battle, is won.

COR: I think I understand better now.

Thank you, Lord Saint Germain. We are all honored to speak with you, as always.

SAINT GERMAIN: Always, you are guided and assisted, dear ones! Never doubt such. You have not been abandoned. All is well.

COR: And “all manner of things shall be well”!

SAINT GERMAIN: Most assuredly so!

May you pass every test you have set out for your Earth journey! For there is great evolvment here.

COR: Namaste, friend! Thank you for your assistance.

[Saint Germain bows to us all.]

2021-03-02 Chris Hedges: The Age of Social Murder

The ruling elites, despite the accelerating and tangible ecological collapse, mollify us, either by meaningless gestures or denial.

By Chris Hedges / Original to ScheerPost

The two million deaths that have resulted from the ruling elites mishandling of the global pandemic will be dwarfed by what is to follow. The global catastrophe that awaits us, already baked into the ecosystem from the failure to curb the use of fossil fuels and animal agriculture, presage new, deadlier pandemics, mass migrations of billions of desperate people, plummeting crop yields, mass starvation and systems collapse.

The science that elucidates this social death is known to the ruling elites. The science that warned us of this pandemic, and others that will follow, is known to the ruling elites. The science that shows that a failure to halt carbon emissions will lead to a climate crisis and ultimately the extinction of the human species and most other species is known to the ruling elites. They cannot claim ignorance. Only indifference.

The facts are incontrovertible. Each of the last four decades have been hotter than the last. In 2018, the UN International Panel on Climate Change released a special report on the systemic effects of a 1.5 degrees Celsius (2.7 degrees Fahrenheit) rise in temperatures. It makes for very grim reading. Soaring temperature rises — we are already at a 1.2 degrees Celsius (2.16 degrees Fahrenheit) above pre-industrial levels — are already baked into the system, meaning that even if we stopped all carbon emission today, we still face catastrophe. Anything above a temperature rise of 1.5 degrees Celsius will render the earth uninhabitable. The Arctic ice along with the Greenland ice sheet are now expected to melt regardless of how much we reduce carbon emissions. A seven-meter (23-foot) rise in sea level, which is what will take place once the ice is gone, means every town and city on a coast at sea level will have to be evacuated.

Roger Hallam, the co-founder of Extinction Rebellion, whose nonviolent acts of mass civil disobedience offer the last, best chance to save ourselves, lays it out in this video:

Extinction Rebellion was set up to tell the truth and the truth is that if we allow the carbon economy to get back up and running post covid, we are locking in the suffering and death of billions of people.

This is beyond the imagination but one thing is clear: that at this point, two years after the founding of XR, we have to enter into civil resistance against the government or become complicit in its murderous intent.

Knowledge requires action. In this talk XR co founder Roger Hallam will outline our responsibilities at this time: to undertake nonviolent direct actions which will result in arrest and imprisonment. This is what happened in the past and this what is demanded of us now.

At the end of the talk we will discuss the practicalities of action as we come out of Covid in 2021.

email: ring2021@protonmail.com to find out more about our responsibilities in 2021
Recorded on 2nd February, 2021

As the climate crisis worsens, the political constrictions will tighten, making public resistance difficult. We do not live, yet, in the brutal Orwellian state that appears on the horizon, one where all dissidents will suffer the fate of Julian Assange. But this Orwellian state is not far away. This makes it imperative that we act now.

The ruling elites, despite the accelerating and tangible ecological collapse, mollify us, either by meaningless gestures or denial. They are the architects of social murder.

Social murder, as Friedrich Engels noted in his 1845 book "The Condition of the Working-Class in England," one of the most important works of social history, is built into the capitalist system. The ruling elites, Engels writes, those that hold "social and political control," were aware that the harsh working and living conditions during the industrial revolution doomed workers to "an early and unnatural death:"

"When one individual inflicts bodily injury upon another such that death results, we call the deed manslaughter; when the assailant knew in advance that the injury would be fatal, we call his deed murder. But when society places hundreds of proletarians in such a position that they inevitably meet a too early and an unnatural death, one which is quite as much a death by violence as that by the sword or bullet; when it deprives thousands of the necessities of life, places them under conditions in which they cannot live — forces them, through the strong arm of the law, to remain in such conditions until that death ensues which is the inevitable consequence — knows that these thousands of victims must perish, and yet permits these conditions to remain, its deed is murder just as surely as the deed of the single individual; disguised, malicious murder, murder against which none can defend himself, which does not seem what it is, because no man sees the murderer, because the death of the victim seems a natural one, since the offence is more one of omission than of commission. But murder it remains.”

— Friedrick Engels, "The Condition of the Working-Class in England"

The ruling class devotes tremendous resources to mask this social murder. They control the narrative in the press. They falsify science and data, as the fossil fuel industry has done for decades. They set up committees, commissions and international bodies, such as UN climate summits, to pretend to address the problem. Or they deny, despite the dramatically changing weather patterns, that the problem even exists.

Scientists have long warned that as global temperatures rise, increasing precipitation and heat waves in many parts of the world, infectious diseases spread by animals will plague populations year-round and expand into northern regions. Pandemics such as HIV/AIDS, which has killed approximately 36 million people, the Asian flu, which killed between one and four million, and COVID-19, which has already killed over 2.5 million, will ripple across the globe in ever more virulent strains, often mutating beyond our control. The misuse of antibiotics in the meat industry, which accounts for 80 percent of all antibiotic use, has produced strains of bacteria that are antibiotic resistant and fatal. A modern version of the Black Death, which in the 14th century killed between 75 and 200 million people, wiping out perhaps half of Europe’s population, is probably inevitable as long as the pharmaceutical and medical industries are configured to make money rather than protect and save lives.

Even with vaccines, we lack the national infrastructure to distribute them efficiently because profit trumps health. And those in the global south are, as usual, abandoned, as if the diseases that kill them will never reach us. Israel’s decision to distribute COVID-19 vaccines to as many as 19 countries while refusing to vaccinate the 5 million Palestinians living under its occupation is emblematic of the ruling elite’s stunning myopia, not to mention immorality.

What is taking place is not neglect. It is not ineptitude. It is not policy failure. It is murder. It is murder because it is premeditated. It is murder because a conscious choice was made by the global ruling classes to extinguish life rather than protect it. It is murder because profit, despite the hard statistics, the growing climate disruptions and the scientific modeling, is deemed more important than human life and human survival.

The elites thrive in this system, as long as they serve the dictates of what Lewis Mumford called the “megamachine,” the convergence of science, economy, technics and political power unified into an integrated, bureaucratic structure whose sole goal is to perpetuate itself. This structure, Mumford noted, is antithetical to “life-enhancing values.” But to challenge the megamachine, to name and condemn its death wish, is to be expelled from its inner sanctum. There are, no doubt, some within the megamachine who fear the future, who are perhaps even appalled by the social murder, but they do not want to lose their jobs and their social status to become pariahs.

The massive resources allocated to the military, which when the costs of the Veterans Administration are added to the Department of Defense budget come to $826 billion a year, are the most glaring example of our suicidal folly, symptomatic of all decaying civilizations that squander diminishing resources in institutions and projects that accelerate their decline.

The American military — which accounts for 38 percent of military spending worldwide — is incapable of combating the real existential crisis. The fighter jets, satellites, aircraft carriers, fleets of warships, nuclear submarines, missiles, tanks and vast arsenals of weaponry are useless against pandemics and the climate crisis. The war machine does nothing to mitigate the human suffering caused by degraded environments that sicken and poison populations or make life unsustainable. Air pollution already kills an estimated 200,000 Americans a year while children in decayed cities such as Flint, Michigan are damaged for life with lead contamination from drinking water.

The prosecution of endless and futile wars, costing anywhere from $5 to $7 trillion, the maintenance of some 800 military bases in over 70 countries, along with the endemic fraud, waste and mismanagement by the Pentagon at a time when the survival of the species is at stake is self-destructive. The Pentagon has spent more than $67 billion alone on a ballistic missile defense system that few believe will actually work and billions more on a series of dud weapons systems, including the $22 billion Zumwalt destroyer. And, on top of all this, the U.S. military emitted 1.2 billion metric tons of carbon emissions between 2001 and 2017, twice the annual output of the nation's passenger vehicles.

A decade from now, we will look back at the current global ruling class as the most criminal in human history, willfully dooming millions upon millions of people to die, including those from this pandemic, which dwarf the murderous excesses of the killers of the past including the Europeans that carried out the genocide of the indigenous peoples in the Americas, the Nazis that exterminated some 12 million people, the Stalinists or Mao's Cultural Revolution. This is the largest crime against humanity ever committed. It is being committed in front of us. And, with few exceptions, we are willfully being herded like sheep to the slaughter.

It is not that most people have faith in the ruling elites. They know they are being betrayed. They feel vulnerable and afraid. They understand that their misery is unacknowledged and unimportant to the global elites, who have concentrated staggering amounts of wealth and power into the hands of a tiny cabal of rapacious oligarchs.

The rage many feel at being abandoned often expresses itself in a poisoned solidarity. This poisoned solidarity unites the disenfranchised around hate crimes, racism, inchoate acts of vengeance against scapegoats, religious and ethnic chauvinism and nihilistic violence. It fosters crisis cults, such as those built by the Christian fascists, and elevates demagogues such as Donald Trump.

Social divisions benefit the ruling class, which has built media silos that feed packaged hate to competing demographics. The greater the social antagonisms, the less the elites have to fear. If those gripped by poisoned solidarity become numerically superior — nearly half of the American electorate rejects the traditional ruling class and embraces conspiracy theories and a demagogue — the elites will accommodate the new power configuration, which will accelerate the social murder.

The Biden administration will not carry out the economic, political, social or environmental reforms that will save us. The fossil fuel industry will continue to extract oil. The wars will not end. Social inequality will grow. Government control, with its militarized police forces of internal occupation, wholesale surveillance and loss of civil liberties, will expand. New pandemics, along with droughts, wildfires, monster hurricanes, crippling heat waves and flooding, will lay waste to the country as well as a population burdened by a for-profit health care system that is not designed or equipped to deal with a national health crisis.

The evil that makes this social murder possible is collective. It is perpetrated by the colorless bureaucrats and technocrats churned out of business schools, law schools, management programs and elite universities. These systems managers carry out the incremental tasks that make vast, complicated systems of exploitation and death work. They collect, store and manipulate our personal data for digital monopolies and the security and surveillance state. They grease the wheels for ExxonMobil, BP and Goldman Sachs. They write the laws passed by the bought-and-paid-for political class. They pilot the aerial drones that terrorize the poor in Afghanistan, Iraq, Syria, and Pakistan. They profit from the endless wars. They are the corporate advertisers, public relations specialists and television pundits that flood the airwaves with lies. They run the banks. They oversee the prisons. They issue the forms. They process the papers. They deny food stamps and medical coverage to some and unemployment benefits to others. They carry out the evictions. They enforce the laws and the regulations. They do not ask questions. They live in an intellectual vacuum, a world of stultifying minutia. They are T.S. Eliot's "the hollow men," "the stuffed men." "Shape without form, shade without color," the poet writes. "Paralyzed force, gesture without motion."

These systems managers made possible the genocides of the past, from the extermination of Native Americans to the Turkish slaughter of the Armenians to the Nazi Holocaust to Stalin's liquidations. They kept the trains running. They filled out the paperwork. They seized the property and confiscated the bank accounts. They did the processing. They rationed the food. They administered the concentration camps and the gas chambers. They enforced the law. They did their jobs.

These systems managers, uneducated in all but their tiny technical specialty, lack the language and moral autonomy to question the reigning assumptions or structures.

Hannah Arendt in "Eichmann in Jerusalem" writes that Adolf Eichmann was motivated by "an extraordinary diligence in looking out for his personal advancement." He joined the Nazi Party because it was a good career move. Arendt continued:

"The trouble with Eichmann was precisely that so many were like him, and that the many were neither perverted nor sadistic, that they were, and still are, terribly and terrifyingly normal.

The longer one listened to him, the more obvious it became that his inability to speak was closely connected with an inability to think, namely, to think from the standpoint of somebody else. No communication was possible with him, not because he lied but because he was surrounded by the most reliable of all safeguards against words and the presence of others, and hence against reality as such."

Hannah Arendt, "Eichmann in Jerusalem"

The Russian novelist Vasily Grossman in his book "Forever Flowing" observed that "the new state did not require holy apostles, fanatic, inspired builders, faithful, devout disciples. The new state did not even require servants — just clerks." This metaphysical ignorance fuels social murder.

We cannot emotionally absorb the magnitude of the looming catastrophe and therefore do not act.

In Claude Lanzmann's Holocaust documentary "Shoah," he interviews Filip Müller, a Czech Jew who survived the liquidations in Auschwitz as a member of the "special detail.," "

"One day in 1943 when I was already in Crematorium 5, a train from Bialystok arrived. A prisoner on the 'special detail' saw a woman in the 'undressing room' who was the wife of a friend of his. He came right out and told her: 'You are going to be exterminated. In three hours, you'll be ashes.' The woman believed him because she knew him. She ran all over and warned to the other women. 'We're going to be killed.

We're going to be gassed.' Mothers carrying their children on their shoulders didn't want to hear that. They decided the woman was crazy. They chased her away. So, she went to the men. To no avail. Not that they didn't believe her. They'd heard rumors in the Bialystok ghetto, or in Grodno, and elsewhere. But who wanted to hear that? When she saw that no one would listen, she scratched her whole face. Out of despair. In shock. And she started to scream.

Filip Müller to Claude Lanzmann, "Shoah"

How do we resist? Why, if this social murder is inevitable, as I believe it is, do we even fight back? Why not give in to cynicism and despair? Why not withdraw and spend our lives attempting to satiate our private needs and desires? We are all complicit, paralyzed by the overwhelming force of the megamachine and bound to its destructive energy by our allotted slots within its massive machinery."

Yet, to fail to act, and this means carrying out mass, sustained acts of nonviolent civil disobedience in an attempt to smash the megamachine, is spiritual death. It is to succumb to the cynicism, hedonism and numbness that has turned the systems managers and technocrats that orchestrate this social murder into human cogs. It is to surrender our humanity. It is to become an accomplice.

Albert Camus writes that "one of the only coherent philosophical positions is revolt. It is a constant confrontation between man and his obscurity. It is not aspiration, for it is devoid of hope. That revolt is the certainty of a crushing fate, without the resignation that ought to accompany it."

"A living man can be enslaved and reduced to the historic condition of an object," Camus warns. "But if he dies in refusing to be enslaved, he reaffirms the existence of another kind of human nature which refuses to be classified as an object."

The capacity to exercise moral autonomy, to refuse to cooperate, to wreck the megamachine, offers us the only possibility left to personal freedom and a life of meaning. Rebellion is its own justification. It erodes, however imperceptibly, the structures of oppression. It sustains the embers of empathy and compassion, as well as justice. These embers are not insignificant. They keep alive the capacity to be human. They keep alive the possibility, however dim, that the forces that are orchestrating our social murder can be stopped. Rebellion must be embraced, finally, not only for what it will achieve, but for what it will allow us to become. In that becoming we find hope.
